A SCORE OF MEN KILLED; SOME ARE BLOWN TO ATOMS.

EXPLOSION IN POWER HOUSE OF NEW YORK CENTRAL ROAD.

THREE KILLED IN A STREET CAR
BLOCK AWAY WHEN CAR IS LIFTED FROM TRACK AND DROPPED ON AUTOMOBILE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19—A score of men were blown to atoms, crushed to death or burned alive by the explosion and fire which destroyed the new power house of the New York Central and New Haven & Hartford railroads today.

More than 100 persons were injured and eight of these will probably die. Ten bodies have been recovered, while the others are buried in the debris of the wrecked building, which is on fire and burning fiercely, making the work of rescuing the bodies difficult.

Many buildings in the vicinity were almost shaken from their foundations and are now threatening to collapse. A number of firemen have been injured in the fight of the department to keep the flames from spreading to the adjoining buildings and the people of the neighborhood are in a state of panic.

The force of the explosion may be judged by the fact that three people were killed in a street car a block away when a Lexington avenue car was lifted from the track and thrown onto a passing automobile.

The terrible explosion was caused by the explosion of a battery of boilers in the power house.

The authorities are investigating the accident. Fire Chief Croker has given out a statement in which he says he believes the explosion was caused by some workman in the power house dropping a crowbar on the third rail in the building. This caused a flame which was communicated to the pintch gas tanks which exploded and this explosion caused the boilers to also explode.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon 13 bodies had been recovered from the ruins and some declare there are no more bodies to be found, although it is known several men are still missing.

There were 500 pounds of dynamite in the power house, which added to the force of the explosion.

G. B. SEAMAN IN THE RACE FOR MAYOR.

FORMER CITY EXECUTIVE MAY ENTER RACE AGAIN.

PETITION FROM NUMBER OF VOTERS PLEDGING THEIR SUPPORT IS PRESENTED TO THE FORMER MAYOR.

More interest is added to the campaign for Mayor of the City of Daytona by the announcement that G. B. Seaman, who served one term in that position, will probably enter the race for re-election.

A petition was recently circulated among the citizens asking Mr. Seaman to become a candidate and pledging the support of the signers. This petition, with a total of about 40 signers, was presented to Mr. Seaman Saturday night and he announces now that he is favorably considering the matter and will probably accept the invitation of his friends to enter the race.

Mayor Greene has not yet announced whether he will be a candidate for re-election, merely remarking that he is in the hands of his friends and giving the impression that he will probably be in the race. The announcement that Mr. Seaman will be a candidate makes four who will make the fight for the big job in the city hall and the voters will have an opportunity to choose between Mr. Seaman, Dr. G. A. Klock, M. H. Zuber and Simon Heymann.

A Special Collection

The children of a certain Sunday School were called upon for a special collection on one occasion and each child was required to repeat a verse of scripture as they came forward and dropped their contribution in the box. Things went along nicely and "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver" and similar texts were repeated as they filed past, but the exercises were almost disrupted by one youngster who exclaimed in a loud voice as he dropped in his nickel, "A fool and his money are soon parted." That "text" no doubt expressed his sentiment as well as the gentleman with certificates of stock to sell, each one bearing a large gold seal the latter being the only thing the color of gold the purchaser will ever get. Watch for them--your name may be next.

At Deland is located the largest and most modern of the Florida State Penitentiaries, which occupies an area of 100 acres. The prison is situated on the north shore of the Deland River, and is one of the most modern and well equipped of its kind in the South. It is a large, modern building, with a central tower and a series of wings. The prison is surrounded by a high wall, and is guarded by a large force of soldiers. The prison is a very important institution in the State, and is one of the most modern and well equipped of its kind in the South.

The city has a population of about 1,000, with a strictly settled country around it. Deland is a city of five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominant products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 100,000 boxes this year. Sugar, peaches, pears, large pineapples, plums, pears, guavas, plantains and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the parent water at little cost.

Many houses of worship testify that Deland is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopallians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten year course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to Deland is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From Deland automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from Deland to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from Deland to Lake Helen, a like distance.

Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground, is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY
The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

THE DREAM.

JACKSONVILLE ENTHUSIASTS WILL TRY TO RAISE MONEY.

FORMER MANAGER OF INDIAN-APOLIS SPEEDWAY IN THAT CITY PUSHING THE MOVEMENT FOR RACING MEET.

The talk among Jacksonville automobile enthusiasts about holding an automobile and aviation meet on the beach near that city some time during the spring of 1911 has finally taken shape and a movement with this end in view, was started at a meeting of the enthusiasts held in the board of trade rooms in that city recently.

E. A. Moross, recently in charge of the auto speedway at Indianapolis, is the man who is pushing the movement for a meet at Jacksonville, and he believes the prospects are good. The only question, according to the way he looks at it, is whether the business interests will put up the necessary cash. He figures it will take about $8,000 to pull the races with the aviation feature added, and about $6,500 for the auto races alone.

Mr. Moross says that the Florida beaches have gained national fame as the finest in existence because of the great races that have been pulled off at Daytona. He says the magnificent speedway at Indianapolis hasn't the reputation that the Daytona beach has. The best speed for a mile that has ever been made at Indianapolis is 34.73 seconds, while the record at Daytona, held by Barney Oldfield, is 26 seconds.

Mr. Moross says he has attended all the big meets here and believes the beach near Jacksonville can be put into shape to hold just as fast races as were ever held at Daytona.

Committees of enthusiasts are now making a canvass among the business men in Jacksonville in an effort to raise the necessary money to pull off the races there, either the last week in March or the first week in April.

President of the Jacksonville Automobile and Aviation Club.

All Japanese fans, of course, charge a great deal more to the globe trotting European tourist who does not speak the language, since he or she is not content to travel strictly a la Japonaise and worries the entire household with a variety of strange demands—extra quilts to sleep on because they find the floor hard, an improvised pillow, special food (the ordinary guest takes what is given him and at the hour that his host pleases and is thankful, knives, forks and spoons because he has neglected to practice eating his food with chopsticks, a bath with fresh water in it because he will not follow the custom of entering the bath as soon as he arrives, thus getting the opportunity of first bath and the water while it is fresh, and half a dozen other requirements. He reserves his chadai also until he leaves, and often the host misunderstands this action and, fearing he will get no recompense for his extra trouble, augments the bill accordingly.

These visitors not unusually treat the waitresses like so many novel playthings, especially travelers of the sterner sex, who sometimes fall hopelessly to distinguish between professional geishas and ordinary maidservants.—Vera Collum in Wide World Magazine.

MANYUEMA CANNIBALS.

African Savages That Grind Their Teeth to Sharp Points.

The most terrible species of cannibals living are the cruel, bloodthirsty Manyema of Tanganyika, in central Africa. Living to the west of Tanganyika, these cannibals, clothed in primitive fashion with a piece of bark cloth rudely hammered out from a neighboring tree, have an appetite for human flesh which is well nigh insatiable.

They exercise the most fiendish cunning in tracking down their quarry, choosing fat, well covered people in preference to those who are lean and bony. Their favorite practice is to waylay their victims at eventide so that they may have before them a long night in which to effectually dispose of their prey by cutting it up into strips and drying it over a low fire in the woods. These dried strips of human flesh are carefully preserved for future use, and on two occasions these gruesome forest food depots were discovered and their owners killed by the Wapipa people, who inhabit east Tanganyika.

Most of these cannibals file their teeth to sharp points so as to enable them more easily to tear the flesh from the bone when they have to eat their abominable meal in a hurry.—Wide World Magazine.

SUBJECT OF IMPORTANCE TO COME UP.

QUESTION OF PARCELS POST WILL BE BEFORE CONGRESS.

MASS MEETING OF FRIENDS OF MOVEMENT WILL BE HELD IN NEW YORK THIS MONTH TO DISCUSS MATTER.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—A parcels post will be one of the most important subjects that the present congress will have to deal with, and the champions of this movement feel confident that some definite steps will be taken toward the establishment of this system before congress adjourns next March.

The fact that both President Taft, in his annual message, and Postmaster General Hitchcock in his annual report, have recommended the rural parcels post, has greatly strengthened their hopes, and they believe that if once a system is established for the rural districts, it will only be a short time before it is made general.

James I. Cowles, founder and secretary of the Postal Progress League, says that a vigorous campaign will be made this year in Washington to bring about the enactment of some parcels post legislation.

"Should we fail," he continued, "we shall urge the president to call a special session of the 62nd congress to take up this matter."

"Every effort is being made by the members of our league throughout the country to bring about the election of senators pledged to a parcels post system. We feel confident that a majority of the house members are in favor of such legislation, and now is our time to make sure of the senate."

"A mass meeting is to be held in Cooper Union, New York, Dec. 29, which will be addressed by a number of prominent business men, and this will be followed by our annual convention in February."

"At present there are two bills before Congress providing for the parcels post system—the Bennett bill and the Sulzer bill. Our league favors the Sulzer bill because it specifies the limit on packages. If this bill is made a law it will save the people of the country $50,000,000 a year that they are now paying to the express companies in excessive rates, and convert the annual deficit of the post office department into a handsome profit."

Although the sentiment in the house seems generally favorable to the parcels post, there is a strong factor opposed to it. This is the house committee on post offices and post roads.

MRS. CONRAD PASSES AWAY AT HOME IN SENECA FALLS.

F. N. CONRAD OF THIS CITY
REACHES HER BEDSIDE BEFORE HIS MOTHER ANSWERS
LAST CALL.

A telegram to Mrs. F. N. Conrad from her husband announces that his mother, Mrs. Catherine Conrad, died at her home in Seneca Falls, N. Y., at noon Saturday. Mr. Conrad reached the bedside of his mother before she passed away.

Mr. Conrad hurried to Seneca Falls when he received a telegram last week announcing that his mother was critically ill and physicians did not believe she could live more than a few days. The telegram to Mr. Conrad arrived here just after he had left on a business trip to DeLand and was forwarded to him at the county seat. He had gone to DeLand to attend a meeting of the directors of the Merchants Bank. He hurried through with his business and caught the morning train for the north.

The funeral is being held today and Mr. Conrad leaves tonight for Daytona, expecting to arrive home Wednesday evening.

J. S. Burnham and wife, of Rogers, Ark., are located for the season in The Ridgewood Apartment house on South Ridgewood avenue.

NEW $5,000 BUILDING.
The Methodists of Gainesville pushing forward plans for the erection of a new church building to be known as the University Place Methodist Episcopal church, South, and the new structure is to cost $5,000. Two lots have been purchased, plans are now being drawn and it is said work on the new structure will begin early next year.

The new church is to be located just east of the university grounds and will be a mission to the main church, the pulpit to be filled by different pastors. The Gainesville First Methodist church is financing the undertaking.

POISON PLACED IN FEED;
VALUABLE HORSE IS DEAD.
GAINESVILLE, Fla., Dec. 19.—Zelle Gourman, a negro farm laborer, is under arrest here charged with wilfully and maliciously poisoning a valuable horse, the property of Walter E. Bryant, who resides a few miles south of Gainesville.

The arrest was made by Officer Deputy Bruton after the issuance of a warrant by Justice of the Peace Carlisle.

Gourman is alleged to have administered paris green, a deadly poison, to the horse while in the act of feeding the stock. Gourman denies the charge and accepted arrest in a non-chalant manner, absolutely refusing to discuss the allegation in any sense.

Jasper Brown had the misfortune to lose a valuable colt Friday night, when the animal broke out of its enclosure, breaking a blood vessel in the struggle. The colt was three years old.

CLARENDON HELP HERE; ALL BUSY.

FOUR FLOORS FURNISHED;
FIFTH IS NEARLY READY.

ONE MORE WEEK WILL SEE ALL OF WORKMEN OUT OF STRUCTURE AND BUILDING WILL BE TURNED OVER TO COMPANY.

The construction of the Hotel Clarendon is so far along that the management is having the help come at once and not wait until the latter part of the month as originally planned, so that the house will be in perfect condition for the opening on the second of the year.

The rooms on the first and second floors are now furnished and are being hung with the curtains; those on the third and fourth floors are carpeted and will be furnished this week, making the one remaining floor the only one not yet turned over by the contractor to the management. The decorating in the rooms on this floor will be done this week so that it will be ready with the rest on time.

The grill room, which is finished in dark oak panels will be turned over to the members of the Lotus club this week, who will make it ready for the opening night. All of the concessions in the basement are being put in shape for January 1, the Turkish baths and barber shop both being completed at this date, while the bowling alley and hair dressing establishment are getting the finishing touches.

L. Barth & Son, of New York, who have the contract for the installation of the kitchen fixtures, were able to serve meals Sunday to the consignments of help that arrived to get the house in order for the balance who arrive today. This is quite an example of speed in as much as they were not to have it ready for operation until the 25th of the month.

The manager and two electricians of the United Wireless company are here now installing the wireless station which is one of the features of the conveniences with which the building is being fitted. Every thing from the thermos water pitcher in the rooms to a wireless station in the building has been provided to make it up to the minute in the way of modern conveniences.

A week from now should see all the workmen out of the building, and the house turned over to the Clarendon Hotel company to arrange for the operation as the steam heat is on now in every room. Hot water, electric and vacuum cleaning connections are all made, leaving little but the balance of the interior decorating and furnishing to be done.

The heads of departments for the new hotel have been selected as follows:

Manager—W. S. Kenney, assistant manager of the Mt. Washington hotel at Bretton Woods, N. H.
Front Clerk—Claud Kendall, Waretown, N. Y.

Room Clerk—Chas. J. Root of the Mt. Washington, Bretton Woods, N. H.

Housekeeper—Miss Jennie Ryan, former Housekeeper for the old Clarendon.

Chef and Steward—Benjamin King, Jr., of Boston, who was the chef of the old Clarendon.

Head Porter—James Vashon of the Maplewood, Bethlehem, N. H.

Head Bellman—Oscar Mizell.

Head Waiter—Robert Conrad of the Mt. Washington, Bretton Woods, N. H.

Floor Matron—Miss Katherine Wadleigh of the Hotel Touraine, Boston.

Chief Engineer—William Miller, formerly with the old Clarendon, in the summer with the Oceanside hotel, Magnolia, Mass.

DR. GEORGE M. WALLACE IS NOW IN DeLAND.

Dr. Geo. M. Wallace, who has been under the care of Dr. G. A. Klock at the Daytona Private Hospital and Sanitarium on South Beach street, for some time past has made considerable improvement in that time, went to DeLand Saturday morning to spend the winter with his daughter, Mrs. G. T. Haynes, in that city.

The trip to DeLand was made in S. E. Bulard's automobile, Dr. Wallace being accompanied by Dr. R. A. Townsend, Harry E. Thompson and Mr. Bullard. The road was rather rough, but Dr. Wallace stood the trip very well.

Dr. Klock, during Dr. Wallace's illness, extended to him every possible professional courtesy and care and was most zealous in his attention.

HIDE FOR PLEASURE IN AUTO.

PARTY MOTORS TO DAYTONA JUST TO SEE THE COUNTRY.

PARTY OF FIVE STARTS OUT FROM NEW YORK FOR A RIDE. ARRIVES AT DAYTONA AND BEGINS RETURN TRIP.

In a big Packard touring car, riding just for pleasure and taking in the sights of the country through which they passed a party of five from New York City spent Saturday night in Daytona and started on the return trip to New York Sunday forenoon.

The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Minton, son, daughter and chauffeur. The big car rolled into Daytona Saturday night and the members of the party registered at the Ridgewood.

The original plans of the party when they left New York Dec. 8, were to take an automobile trip through the northern part of the Empire state. They proceeded as far north as Dutchess county, where they encountered a heavy snow storm, then changed their plans and started south with no special destination in view. The roads were good, the weather was pleasant and the party allowed the car to roll along until they had arrived as far south as Jacksonville. Here they decided to continue the trip through to Palm Beach, but received discouraging reports about the condition of the road's south of Daytona and decided to come to this city and stop.

When the party left Daytona Sunday forenoon no definite decision had been reached whether the route would lead over through the interior of the State or back to Jacksonville and on their way home. They are traveling just for pleasure and enjoying the balmy atmosphere to be found only in Florida at this season.

"My paper of the 10th inst. has not been received. Will you kindly send me another. Cannot afford to miss even one copy. Very cord here. Wish I was in Daytona."

The Gazette-News and Daily News management regrets that Mr. Fitz Gerald is not enjoying the fulfillment of his wish and hopes that he may do so before the close of the season.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH
Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth, air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straight-away record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobilizing some part of each day. Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors in both towns. All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy.

YOUNG WOOLERS IN DANGER.

Kansas City Organizes a Parental Surveillance Association.
"Save our daughters" is the motto of an organization that has been secretly formed in Kansas City. Its official title is the Parental Surveillance Association of North America, and its object is to suppress young men who call upon girls, keep the gas burning until all hours and never say a word to anybody about marrying.

A handsome bachelor of the Missouri city who goes about a great deal in society has received a note upon which the motto and the title of the association are embossed. It is also marked "Form No. 1." It reads:

Dear Sir—We wish to have a word with you in regard to your courtship of Mr. —'s daughter. Whether or not your intentions toward her are serious we have been in doubt for some time. You have told her that you love her, but do you mean it? Young man, you have already frequented his home and monopolized the company of his daughter sufficiently long to make a declaration of your intentions. If you mean business say so. If you are not serious then cease on some other pasture. His daughter's welfare must be protected. Yours truly, PARENTAL SURVEILLANCE ASSOCIATION OF NORTH AMERICA.

EXILED ROYALTY AT HOME.

King Manuel Visits French Pretender at Wood Norton.

Wood Norton, the Worcestershire home of the Duc d'Orleans, where King Manuel has been celebrating his twenty-first birthday, is in external appearance little more than the average English manor house, but the stamp of royalty is over it all. And the fleur-de-lys is no mere ornamental symbol, for at Wood Norton Philippe VIII. of France keeps royal state and holds his court. He has his retinue of "gentlemen of honor," representatives of some of the oldest families of the French noblesse, under the direction of the Duc de Luynes, and his duchess has her dames d'honneur of equally proud lineage. And in this environment of state and courtly ceremonial "King Philippe" exacts and receives the homage due to a sovereign.

Horse Helped to Eat.

These are in the United States 100 normal schools, with 50,000 students, out of which there are annually graduated more than 11,000 thoroughly trained teachers.

The University of Chicago has 2,416 students, just seventy more than it had at this time last year. The increase of 3 per cent falls chiefly in the graduate school and the college of education.

Many of the new automobiles are made of other materials than steel, copper, brass and iron. They are made of aluminum, magnesium, and other alloys.

As General Grant is located in the large Hotel Hamilton, and he is the only one of the famous generals who is still living, the hotel is a place of interest to tourists.

During the month of March, there are many driving for carriages and automobiles around Daytona Beach.

Through groves of golden oranges, drives through tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Gama-way built by slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of beautiful cottages, where planters are replete with the fruits of Southern Florida.

One of the most interesting of these plantations is at the headquarters of the Halifax and known as Mountgrove. It is one of the finest orange groves on the East Coast of Florida and is a very pretty surroundings. Mountgrove is on the Daytona-Saint Augustine road.

DAZ'S RUALES FORMER BANDITS

New Country Chapter of Mexican Imperial Army.

LIKE MELODRAMA COWBOYS.

Costume is Distinctive and Picturesque—Present Head of Action Land Recruited His Constabulary From Among Freebooters Who Had Harassed Travelers and Laughed at Law.

In Mexico "the rurales" have long been the terror of malcontents and one of the pillars of Diaz's power, and their strength was felt during the recent uprising.

"The rurales!" When this warning is given, and, in the majority of cases it is a perfectly false alarm, all persons engaged in illegal acts, such as knifing each other, burning haystacks or discussing ways of overthrowing the present regime, sober up and flee noiselessly. Witnesses to the affray remember some pressing business demanding their presence a mile or so away.

Should the rough looking riders in their immense sombreros swoop down on the crowd before everything had again become peaceful serious consequences might follow. The ringleader responsible for the disturbance might be soon singled out and led away. At a little distance from the village the rurales might very negligently give him an occasion to escape. While talking to his heels he would hear a shot and fall face downward, his back broken. A hole two feet deep, a little mound of sandy earth, two pieces of board nailed crosswise, and the chief of the detachment would report that a disorderly man was killed in accordance to the "ley fuga," the fugitive law.

Freebooters Formerly Ruled.

Riots and uprisings in all parts of Mexico made the country during the last years of President Juarez's life a storm center as insecure for the traveler as some unfrequented districts of Albania. Bands of highwaymen plundered villages, raided large towns and, mounted on swift horses, carried off the spoil to their mountain haunts. Troops sent against them made little progress, for in Mexico, as elsewhere, the bandit soon assumes a legendary, semi-heroic character, and the villages prefer to court his favor rather than invite his vengeance.

The army itself was made up at that time of unorganized, independent, unreliable guerrilla bands, almost as dangerous for the population as the outlaws themselves.

After President Juarez breathed his last, in 1872, his successor, Diaz, decided to restore the prestige of Mexico in the eyes of foreign nations by doing away entirely with all the freebooters. Calling the veterans of his campaign together, he intrusted them with the task.

They were to trail the bandits systematically to their mountain fastnesses, taking no prisoners, giving no quarter. After several months thousands of crosses dotted the land, marking the spots where justice had been dealt summarily to captured brigands. In the northern hills a town had to be besieged, for a group of fourteen freebooters had taken possession of it, armed and pressed the citizens into their service. After a terrible slaughter it became necessary to erect crosses over an area of a square mile beyond the walls. The town lost its name, which was for shame replaced by Catorce (in Spanish fourteen). In memory of the fourteen highwaymen.

Diaz Solves Problem.

Then it was that Diaz conceived an excellent idea of utilizing the daring and energy of those predatory bands and at the same time putting an end to that heartrending civil war. He offered a truce and invited, after giving hostages, some of the guerrilla chiefs to confer with him.

They returned to the mountains bearing the message that the republic would respect their haunts, leave them their arms and horses and pay them a regular salary if they consented to make their peace. An occupation would be found for them which would not interfere with their free, adventurous life. They were to police the mountain regions and act as emergency troops when quick and energetic action was required. The half-starved bands, weary of the struggle, made their submission. Up to the present day they have constituted the rurales, the crack regiment of the Mexican army.

Like the Russian Cossacks, they have retained their picturesque costume. While the rest of the Mexican army is uniformed after the fashion of the French troops, the rurales wear clothes which greatly resemble the attire of melodrama cowboys—immense Spanish or Moorish saddles, from which hang all kinds of arms or camping implements; leather incased stirrups, Mexican trousers slit on the side and showing bright hued "cabzoncillos," a nondescript coat of gray, a straw hat one foot and a half high with a rolled up brim of "Merry Widow" size.

Some 3,500 of them are now roving over the lonely sections of Mexico, and, although their long cavalry sabers, heavy pistols and cartridges never allow the traveler to forget that once their calling was of a rather strenuous character, their presence is always a great comfort.

General Simon B. Buckner, at 87. Says He Is Happiest Man In World

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Good mint, a crystal spring, a log cabin and his home grown tobacco are things that go to make him the happiest man in the world, declares General Simon Bolivar Buckner. Notwithstanding his eighty-seven years General Buckner is still an active man. He recently attended the governors' meeting in Louisville and extended an invitation to the many governors to visit him in his Kentucky home. General Buckner is former governor of the Blue Grass State and a veteran of the civil war, having fought for the south. He lives in Hart county today and declares all the money of a Rockefeller could not buy his home, for "I am happy, happy as a man can be," he says. General Buckner was candidate for vice president on the gold Democratic ticket in 1896. He still loves to tell stories of that campaign, when he stumped the country with General Palmer in behalf of the gold ticket. "Palmer honestly thought he was going to be elected, but I never thought for a second we would get more than a few hundred thousand votes," explains General Buckner. "And I was wrong at that, for only about 40,000 folks thought Palmer and I would look good in Washington."

MUZZLING THE PRESS.

A Much Favored Official Duty at One Time in England.

There was a time in England when government officials viewed the press as a hostile power, to be destroyed if possible—to be curbed at any cost. In 1633 Roger L'Estrange, "overseer of the press," brought out his "Considerations and Proposals in Order to the Regulation of the Press." He advocated the severest restrictions for authors and printers, as well as for "the letter founders and the smiths and joiners that work upon the premises" and "the stitchers, binders, stationers, hawkers, mercury women, peddlers, ballad singers, poets, carriers, hackney coachmen, boatmen and mariners."

A proposal of L'Estrange was that culprits convicted of having broken the law should be condemned "to wear some visible badge or mark of ignominy, as a halter instead of a hat-band, one stocking blue and another red, a blue bonnet with a red letter T or S upon it." A few years later L'Estrange went one better by declaring that newspapers ought not be allowed at all.

He said that the reading of them "makes the multitude too familiar with the actions and councils of their superiors, too pragmatical and censorious, and gives them not only an itch but a kind of colorable right and license to be meddling with the government." In 1685 L'Estrange was knighted.—Chicago News.

A Few Exceptions.

There was no love lost between Rufus and his teacher. Rufus thought the teacher was a severe and occasionally unjust person who had never known what it was to be young and full of fun, while the teacher considered the little darky both stupid and mischievous.

"You are not attending to what I say, Rufus," said the teacher one day in the midst of an address to her class.

"Yes, teacher, truly I is," said Rufus, with the reversion to the speech he had learned at home which often accompanied great earnestness.

"You should never say 'I is,'" commanded the teacher. "I have told you that a hundred times. You know the correct form. There are no exceptions to its use. Give me two examples at once."

"Yas'm," said Rufus meekly. "I am one of de letters of de alphabet. I am a pronoun."—Youth's Companion.

Rossini's Jealousy.

Rossini was intolerably jealous of all his musical contemporaries, and particularly of Meyerbeer. In 1836 he heard "The Huguenots," and on listening to the performance from the beginning to the end he made up his mind that Meyerbeer had excelled him and determined to write no more operatic music. He lived until 1868, but produced nothing for the lyric stage. His thirty-two years of retirement were spent in the pleasures of a voluptuary. He was particularly fond of good eating and drinking and assembled about him the youngest and gayest society he could attract to his house.

His Way of Showing His Love.

"You wrong him, papa. He does not love me for my money. He scoffs at the world's sordid eagerness for wealth."

"What proof have you, child?"

"Why, only last night he told me he didn't care if he never was able to make a penny in his life if he only had me!"

Culinary Conceits.

Glaze fruits and nut meats chopped fine may be mixed with a white frosting and spread between layers of chocolate cake.

When making cream of onion soup use half a bay leaf, a bit of minced parsley and a bit of mace for seasoning. It will be found exceedingly tasty.

Roast goose is very good stuffed with apples cut in quarters. The fowl is filled with these, sewed or tied up and roasted for two and a half hours or more, according to size.

Nut croquettes make a delicate luncheon dish. A cupful of stale bread crumbs is soaked in half a cupful of milk. Into this is stirred a cupful of chopped walnuts or mixed nuts, seasoned with salt and pepper. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs and fry in deep fat.

HAUNTED GAVEL FOR CLARK.

Death of Elopement Indian Princess Figures in Narrative.

In 1817 a mill was built on Penock creek one-half mile from its mouth in Pike county, Mo., by Enoch Matson, grandfather of A. P. Matson of that state. A piece of the apron log of the dam was cut out by Mr. Matson and Warren Hatcher a year ago. The timber is sound, very dry and solid. Out of it will be made a gavel for Champ Clark to call the house of congress to order.

This was the first mill built north of the Missouri river. The dam is haunted, and no fish will live in the water. Many years ago an Indian maiden who lived at the old dam site fell in love with a white man. She shook the chief's son and eloped with the paleface. This angered the chief. Gathering his Indian braves, he caught the pair and threw their dead bodies in the deep water at the dam. This tragedy disgusted the fish, and they left years ago, it is said.

So Champ will have a gavel with a history and a romance attached—a history which marks the departure of the Indian and the dawning of western civilization—a romance of love, hatred and revenge.

VIVISECTION FOR CRIMINALS.

Cincinnati Surgeon Advocate of Scheme to Aid Science.

Dr. Benjamin Merrill Ricketts, a physician of Cincinnati, advocates under certain circumstances the subjecting of criminals to surgical investigation.

"Vivisection in both animals and man is essential for a more rapid progress in the science of medicine and surgery," says Dr. Ricketts.

"Criminals should be given an opportunity to accept the right to subject themselves to the hands of the experimenter, even though their lives may be jeopardized. Their reward should be their liberty."

"They are many times promised this for services of less importance. Capital punishment should be abolished, for life should not be taken except in self defense. The evolution of punishment for crime is fast approaching the elimination of punishment by death, because certain surgical measures, together with disfranchisement and labor, will ere long obtain."

Chile's Endless Salt Mines.

Chile has salt enough to supply the world for ages to come. It is found in large bodies 99 per cent pure and only needs grinding to be ready for table use.

Which He Liked Best.

A young husband and his bride attended a recent exhibition of Parisian gowns in living models in Philadelphia. Finally the wife, after inspecting the gowns critically, asked her husband "which one he liked best."

Absentmindedly considering for a moment, the young man answered: "The big blond." He is still explaining.—Philadelphia Times.
